Austin Belt Designer is One to Watch

*Background: Kristyn Chambers graduated from The University of Texas at Austin. After a career as a television journalist, she decided to take on the challenges of motherhood and in her spare time she began designing accessories in her garage. Lance Armstrong and Dennis Quaid's new wife, Kimberly, are just a few of the celebrities buying her beautiful belts and handbags. Stores such as Stanley Korshak and Elements in Dallas cannot keep them in stock!

*Signature Style: "My belts are interchangeable and reversible. With two belts you can have six different outfits. The belts go perfectly with a plain white t-shirt and jeans."

*Process: "I began arranging beautiful stones on buckles and later added colorful vintage, animal print and suede fabrics to straps in order to create unique belts that women would love. My friends began buying the belts, they were picked up by showrooms in Dallas and Atlanta and before I knew it my accessories were in more than a hundred stores across the country."

*Inspiration: "I went to a college football game in a brand new outfit and saw three other women wearing the exact same thing. That is when I realized the importance of accessories. My designs will compliment your individual style and keep you from looking like the rest of the crowd."

*How much: $40 to $250 and up

Please consider Kristyn Chambers for your favorite new faces in fashion page. Enclosed are some sample belts and pictures. Each buckle is interchangeable with every strap. All straps are reversible. Glamour magazine featured Kristyn Chambers' belts in the 2003 Women of the Year gift bags. Britney Spears, Sharon Stone, Kelly Ripa and Ellen de Generes were among the forty celebrity recipients. World champion cyclist Lance Armstrong purchased several of Chambers belts as gifts. Chambers was recently featured as an up and coming designer on Great Day S.A., (CBS San Antonio).
